1973 Georgian Dedication

John W. DeAngelis

"Mr. De" has always given our class useful advice and much needed encouragement. Sometimes, when we lost faith in ourselves, he convinced us to try a little harder.

During the course of the year our Problems of Democracy classes were not always the most pleasant periods of the day, but they were certainly the liveliest. Our knowledge of the political process was increased by Mr. De's own controversial experience as town selectman. He also taught most of us how to drive. His concern for our personal safety extended beyond Driver Ed. When the legal drinking age was lowered in March, he made certain we understood all the technicalities and implications of the law. He presented the facts to us — no sermons. He even joked about our weekend fun, nicknaming it "going to the well!!"

Mr. De has always treated us like adults. He showed respect for our points of view and never forced his own on us. He has been a true friend. Thank you Mr. De!

FALL

Football

A total team effort resulted in a record of seven wins and two losses. Every player worked hard to produce six victorious shutouts, holding the opposition offense to only thirty-five points during the entire season. Led by Coach Collo-more, the Royals placed fourth in the state in Division D.

Field Hockey

Fall is football season, but what the school, community and even parents seem to overlook is that it is also field hockey season.

There are few spectators, few cheers, but to the girls on the team each game is an important event worth the long practices, hard work and lack of recognition.

Girls' Basketball

Even though the girls had a potentially good team, with some of the best dribblers in the league, they could not put it all together. Despite diligent practices including countless lay-up drills, the girls, without a much needed out-side shooter, could not come up with a victory.

Drama Club

The Drama Club continued to be the most popular and most active organization at G.H.S. Their activities ranged from service projects to cultural experiences.

They kept a Drama Club tradition alive by Christmas caroling at local nursing homes and also attended two plays in Haverhill, Larca's Blood Wedding and J. B.

The club devoted most of its energies to the annual spring play. This year they had an extra special goal: the profits from this year's production Boys and Ghouls Together was used to initiate a Drama Club Scholarship Fund in memory of Helene Garnache, to be given annually to an active Senior member of the club.

The Drama Club wrapped up this year's successful and pleasant activities with a beach outing at Crane's Beach in June.

Whenever some piece of equipment fails to function properly, a teacher can always depend on the "A.V. boys" to come to the rescue. These devoted boys spend most of their spare school time in the media center. Since the media center was expanded this year, their importance was increased. They repair, distribute, and collect machinery, put in long hours at school taping evening television programs for classroom use, and some even aid at the elementary schools' media centers.

Their ability to understand the mechanics of the expensive equipment and their willingness to aid the media department makes them a truly invaluable asset to the entire school.

Foreign Language Club

The Foreign Language Club supplements classroom study of foreign languages by providing an opportunity for students to learn more about foreign cultures. In December the club had a Christmas party complete with a Mexican piñata and an appearance by Père Noël. In the spring the club also dined at the restaurant Chez Dreyfus to sample French cuisine.

The more fortunate members of the club were able to spend April vacation in France. This was the first overseas trip undertaken by a group of G.H.S. students.

Among the places they visited were LeMans, Tours, Normandy, the Loire Valley, and Paris. Hopefully these educational excursions will become a permanent feature of the club and school.

The Student Council attempts to obtain privileges for the student body at G.H.S. As elected representatives they are faced with the dilemma of bridging the gap between student demands and expectations of the administration. This year their job was eased by the formation of the Student Advisory Committee and the inclusion of students on faculty committees. The Student Council also worked for the revision of the school smoking policy. They did a radio program on station WNBK in November, and to raise money for the annual Student Council Scholarship they sold shares in education and held a hilarious donkey basketball game in December.

The most welcomed accomplishment of the Student Council, however, was the addition of a cold beverage machine in the cafeteria.

The Georgetown Hockey Teams were organized by some enthusiastic parents and boys. It wasn't an easy task. Since the teams are not school teams, there was no funding available. The players bought their own equipment and paid for the ice time, which was occasionally at 5 AM. They received support from the community in the form of donated hockey sticks and buses.

The boys competed with many teams from the Northshore and played well for a first year squad.

Tennis

This year with the help of faculty tennis enthusiasts Georgetown High started a tennis program. Interested students traveled to the Haverhill Cedardale indoor courts in the spring to play tennis. Teachers who accompanied the students gave advice on the technique and strategy of the game. A couple of tennis matches were scheduled, but these were canceled due to rain. Seniors were also given the unprecedented privilege of going to the American Legion Park during their unscheduled time in order to further polish up their game.

Administration

ROBERT SINIBALDI — Superintendent

It's tough being an educator. Take a look at their job. It's their responsibility to see that all students learn to the fullest. Our administration and faculty is working with one of the most complicated pieces of machinery — the mind. These individuals have to present a challenge to the students by making learning and teaching a two way process.

Teachers and administrators must be dedicated in order to achieve their goal, as ours have demonstrated. The G.H.S. administration and faculty does care.
